Assumptions of the Z test

1. Independent observations (procedure)
2. Normal population or big enough sample that it probably doesn’t matter. (graphics)
3. Sigma is known. (almost never true)

Assumptions of the t test

1. Independent observations (procedure)
2. Normal population or big enough sample that it probably doesn’t matter (graphics) (robust)