

University of California, Merced
School of Social Sciences, Humanities and Arts

Chicano/a Literature Series

PRESENTS:

DANIEL CHACÓN

(In conjunction with LIT 069 & LIT 169)

Wednesday, March 7
1:00- 2:20 pm

COB 265
UC Merced

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. For further information or groups of 5 and more, contact Julia Valdez at the School of Social Sciences, Humanities & Arts

Fresno native Daniel Chacón is the author of the highly acclaimed collection of short stories, Chicano Chicanery, as well as of the novel and the shadows took him, which has also been widely received and is now available in print and electronic format. Chacón's works have been anthologized in such books as Humor Me (University of Iowa Press), The Best Latin- American Erotic Fiction (Berkeley Books), Our Working Lives (Bottom Dog Press), and Floating Borderlands: 25 Years of Hispanic Literature (University of Washington Press). He has stories and essays in such journals as The New England Review, Colorado Review, ZYZYVVA, and Callaloo.

*****

For information on forthcoming events, please contact the Series organizer, Dr. Manuel M. Martín-Rodríguez, mmartin-rodriguez@ucmerced.edu