

HISTORY

From 2007 to 2012, Neuphi brought together philosophers, psychologists, and neuroscientists in the Boston area to discuss different topics at the intersection of philosophy and neuroscience. These meetings are listed below. Emi Iwatani and Carolyn Dicey Jennings founded Neuphi in Spring 2007, organizing Neuphi events together from 2007 to 2008, after which Emi moved to Pittsburgh University. Sean Lorenz helped to organize Neuphi events from 2008 to 2010. Neuphi has been funded by the Mind Science Foundation, Boston University's Philosophy Department, and Boston University's Center for the Philosophy and History of Science.
